AEC Holds Hearing On Power Contract

Is 'Greatly Improved'; Weitzel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress' financial watchdog said Friday night the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract has been greatly improved but that he couldn't say whether it is a good one.

That was the way Acting Comptroller General Frank H. Weitzel sized up the 500-million-dollar contract at hearings on it by the Senate House Atomic Energy committee.

Also at the hearings: 1. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission repeatedly and at times warmly contended that the uproar over the deal hasn't impaired the atomic weapons program in the slightest.

2. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) and Anderson (D-N.M.) took the position that the contract carries what Gore called "a very glaring possibility of a tax windfall to Dixon-Yates."

3. Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) stepped up to bat for the contract, which would bring about construction of a 107-million-dollar generating plant in his state. He said it "compares very favorably" with the performance of the Tennessee Valley Authority power program on an actual cost basis.

Fulbright also challenged what he termed allegations that Dixon-Yates would make a "guaranteed profit" of 9 per cent on its deal with the government. He said the Dixon-Yates company has taken "a very substantial risk" and will earn about 3.8 per cent on its total investment, compared with 6 per cent for regulated private utilities.

The Dixon-Yates contract is with the AEC. It provides for construction of a generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed power into the TVA system for 25 to 45 years to replace energy TVA supplies to atomic plants.

The contract has become a center of political controversy. Weitzel testified that not all objections raised against it by his General Accounting Office have been met, but that major ones have been taken care of by last minute changes.

"We definitely feel that many improvements have been made in this contract in the interests of the government," Weitzel said. "We were not the negotiators, and I can't say whether we would or would not have signed the contract. But it is a much better contract than was here last week."

On behalf of Congress, GAO keeps an eye on the way the government spends its money. Weitzel told the committee it was (Continued on page 9)

Churchill Returns To Old School

LONDON (AP)—An old boy of Harrow—Sir Winston Churchill—returned to the scenes of his schooldays Friday and wiped away weeping tears as 589 young scholars cheered, applauded and sang his praises.

It was Churchill's 15th consecutive year to return to his school's annual songs night.

A new verse was added to the school song, Forty Years On, in honor of the man who will be 80 on Nov. 30. It went:

Sixty years on—though in time growing older, Younger at heart you return to The Hill: You, who in days of defeat even older Led us to victory lead Britain still. Still there are bases to guard or beleaguer, Still must the battle for freedom be won. Long may you fight, sir, who fearless and eager Look back today more than sixty years on.

BLOWY GALS COST LLOYD'S

LONDON (AP)—Carol Dolly, Edna and Hazel Friday sent a whopping 112 million dollar bill to Lloyd's. The four are the code names for hurricanes which roared out of the Caribbean this year and cut paths of devastation there and in the United States and Canada.

Underwriters at Lloyd's, the famous insurance firm, said they expect to pay out every few years on one hurricane, but that four in one season makes a heavy burden.

The 112 million represents the amount it will cost Lloyd's underwriters.

Testifies Police Looked For Quick Confession At Sheppard's Arrest

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police who arrested Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for the murder of his wife expected a speedy confession once he was behind bars, said a witness Friday but the confession never came.

This testimony was given by Patrolman Fred F. Drenkhan, a handsome, curly haired member of the seven-man Bay Village police force.

He told of a conference July 30 before he arrested Sheppard in the slaying of his pregnant wife, Margaret, 31, on July 4.

"The statement was made, wasn't it," Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan asked, "that all you had to do was throw Sam Sheppard in jail away from his brothers and family and he'd confess?"

"I heard something like that," Drenkhan conceded.

Sheppard is on trial for his life in the slaying of his wife. Drenkhan still was on the witness stand when court recessed for the weekend.

In a long, grueling, still uncompleted cross examination, Corrigan attempted to demonstrate as he has before that police picked Sheppard as the murderer of Marilyn last July 4 and then—disregarding any other possibility—set out to convict him.

Speaking of the day of the slaying, Corrigan asked: "At that time and on that day it was stated to you that Sam Sheppard had committed murder?"

"Yes, that's right," said Drenkhan, the first policeman on the scene of the murder. He said the statement came from two Cleveland detectives who arrived later.

"And from that day down to this," Corrigan said, "all these investigators have done nothing but try to prove Dr. Sheppard was the murderer."

The state objected and Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin refused to let Drenkhan answer.

Earlier, under direct examination by the state, Drenkhan testified he found no sign of a forced entry to the Sheppard home the day of the murder. Nor, he said, did he find any sign of a struggle on the beach outside.

"The beach was smooth and there was no indication anyone had walked on the beach," he testified.

He also said locked screens were on the three windows in the bedroom where Marilyn died.

Indict I.U. Man For Draft Evasion

CHICAGO (AP)—A graduate assistant at the University of Illinois, Urbana, was indicted Friday for refusing to submit to induction into the armed forces July 12.

He is Kenneth Allyn Brons, 25, of suburban Villa Park. The U. S. grand jury set his bond at $1,500 and Judge John P. Barnes of U. S. District Court issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

A graduate of North Central College in Naperville, Brons is studying for a doctorate in mathematics at the state university.

William T. Hart, assistant U. S. district attorney, said Brons was classified 1A by his local selective service board at Wheaton but claimed deferment as a conscientious objector. A special hearing officer denied the appeal. Brons said he is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Villa Park.

Railroad Inherits $40,000 From Woman He Met Once

CUYLER, N. Y. (AP)—Joe Kogut, a handsome bachelor, slipped out of sooty coveralls and into a suit to greet newsmen who came to ask about his $40,000 inheritance from a woman he took to dinner four years ago and never saw again.

"She must have been a lonely woman," the 45-year-old railroad mused. "She must have enjoyed my company."

He spoke of Miss Margaret Jorgensen of Oshkosh, Wis., who died in 1951 at 66 and willed him all of her $142,000 estate. However, relatives claimed and won a large share. Attorney fees and administrative expenses claimed another large chunk.

Kogut is a fireman for the New York Central Railroad on a run between Buffalo and Syracuse. He used to be safety supervisor, working out of New York City, but he gave that up to move back to this tiny hamlet in central New York. He wanted to be closer to his parents. His father, Charles, is an invalid.

Passenger Killed, 21 Hurt In Train Wreck In East

NASHUA, N.H. (AP)—A crack Montreal-Boston express derailed, overturned and smashed into a mass of wreckage at dawn Friday in the Union Railroad Station yard here.

One passenger was killed, 21 others injured. It was the first fatality to a passenger on the road since 1918.

Cause of the wreck was not immediately determined.

A Boston and Maine Railroad spokesman said the train approached the station—where it was scheduled to stop—"at excessive speed."

He said brake failure could have caused the accident.

The train was the Red Wing made up of eight cars and a double unit Diesel engine.

Only the foremost of the engine units and a Pullman club car at the rear end of the train remained upright.

The others overturned and demolished the tracks as they skidded to a halt.

The baggage-mail car landed on its roof. Other cars smashed into freight cars standing on a siding wrecking two of them, and ripping through the concrete and masonry wall of an adjoining building.

The dead woman was Mrs. Mary Buckley, 30, of Manchester, N. H. She had boarded the train only a short time earlier at Manchester, en route to Boston to take her daughter, Catherine, 11, to the Children's Hospital for treatment for an undiagnosed ailment.

Catherine was one of the first of the injured to reach the hospital. Her anguished cries for her missing mother gave police and railroad officials their first clue to the identity of the dead woman, whose body was pinned in the wreckage.

The train engineer, Samuel Burns, 62, of Saugus, told Nashua police he applied the brakes as he approached the station, adding:

"There were sparks, a swish and then everything left the rails."

Albert S. Baker, assistant to the railroad president, told newsmen:

"The train came into Nashua at excessive speed. It was supposed to stop here. Exactly what the speed was we don't know—but it was excessive, I can't go beyond that."

Behavior Expert Explains Instinct Against Killing

CHICAGO (AP)—Could you drum up enough savagery to press the push button on a city—busting, atomic-loaded rocket?

A world-renowned authority on animal and human behavior said Friday that many normal men would find it less emotionally upsetting than slapping a defenseless little girl.

And that's the reason, says Dr. Konrad Z. Lorenz, that humanity has been on "the razor edge of self-extinction" since the first primitive weapons were devised.

Dr. Lorenz is a director of the Max Planck Institute of Behavior Physiology in Buldern, Germany. He is a pioneer in the science of ethology—a subject that deals with animal behaviors and their relationships to humans.

His studies have convinced him that nature equips all animal life with a kind of built-in safety lock or conscience that prevents them from killing off their own species by natural means.

But the use of weapons, he contends, enables man to bypass this restraining emotional reaction.

He has found:

"The raven that deliberately pecks out the eyes of some small animals and other birds refuses to use this form of attack against another raven, even when fighting."

A wolf will turn his head away and halt his attack on a hated rival if the defeated wolf bares his neck in submission.

A dog will halt his attack if his dog enemy freezes or turns submissively on his back during a fight.

Dr. Lorenz says a dog will not bite a puppy under 4 or 5 months old, despite the provocation.

NAVAL COURT INQUIRES INTO PLANE'S DISAPPEARANCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy convened a four-man court of inquiry Friday to try to find out what happened to a big transport plane that disappeared over the Atlantic Oct. 31 with 42 persons aboard.

The last of a special detail of search planes and ships was called off at sundown last night, the Navy said, although all craft passing through or over the route which the transport planned to fly on its trip from Maryland to North Africa via the Azores, have been asked to "keep constant vigil."

'Slush And Slime' Charge Hurlled At Sen. McCarthy

Continue To Dec. 8 Court Battle Over Thorne's Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—The court battle over Montgomery Ward Thorne's $1,700,000 estate Friday was continued to Dec. 8 because of the election of a new Probate Judge and a switch in attorneys representing an heir.

A will made out only 10 days before Thorne's death June 19, named Miss Maureen Ragen as chief heir and executrix, replacing his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, as principal heir.

Mrs. Thorne, who challenges Miss Ragen's right to the estate, was expected to testify Friday concerning her expenses for the support of the mail order fortune heir during the last 10 years. She did not testify, however, because her attorney Bartlett S. Matrimon asked for the continuance.

Matrimon told Judge Charles G. Seidel, in Probate Court, that newly-elected Judge Robert Jerome Dunne will take over the Probate bench Dec. 6. Matrimon also based his motion for continuance on the contention that a suit challenging the validity of the will which names Miss Ragen as chief heir now is pending in Circuit Court.

Miss Ragen was represented by David J. A. Hayes and Benjamin Ehrlich who said they had been retained by her after she had directed attorney J. Roy Browning to withdraw from the case. Hayes and Ehrlich are the third set of lawyers to represent the Ragens.

Man Shoots Family, Self: Letter Asks Gambling Probe

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Police Friday got a letter from an unemployed truck driver asking them: "Please stop that wicked and crooked poker game."

They had been expecting the letter. A few hours earlier, the writer, Roy Henry, 36, had been found shot to death together with his wife and three small children. Henry R. Salmons, chief of police, said Henry apparently had shot his entire family and then committed suicide.

The bodies of the couple's children—Ronnie, 6; Scott Thomas, 4; and Mary Lynne, 3—were found dead in their beds. Mrs. Henry's body was found in a hallway. Henry was lying on a 22 caliber pistol with eight spent shells.

Near his body was a note saying: "Letter to Mother and Salmons (the police chief) in the mail."

Salmons said the letter asked him to investigate gambling in Salina. "Those thieves have robbed me out of several thousand dollars, so chief please stop that crooked and wicked poker game."

It also mentioned the "legion" and listed names and information about gambling winnings and losses of those named, the chief said.

The letter ended with, "I trust this is the information you desire. Good luck." It was opened in the presence of the county attorney and his assistant.

Mendes-France Reshuffles Cabinet, Names de Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—Maurice Lemaire, a supporter of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, became French minister of housing and reconstruction again Friday in a Cabinet reshuffle by Premier Pierre Mendes-France. There were no Socialists on the new team.

Several subcabinet posts were switched.

The reshuffle was minor, compared with what Mendes-France wanted to do. He would have liked to reinforce his coalition, on the eve of his departure for the United States, by bringing in the Socialists—strongest single party in Parliament.

But the Socialists have been unwilling to join Cabinets for more than three years. They decided yesterday to go on supporting Mendes-France in the National Assembly, but not to go into his Cabinet unless he agreed to a minimum program in advance.

She refused to do.

Meanwhile, French and West German officials met here Friday in a first attempt to fill in the gaps in last month's agreement to "Europeanize" the Saar.

Demos Insist Dulles' Adviser, If Named, Have Hand In Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic senators said Friday they would welcome the appointment by Secretary of State Dulles of a Democratic adviser if that action is a forerunner of increased consultation on foreign policy.

Associates of Dulles said earlier in the day that he is prepared to name a Democratic consultant if leaders of the opposing party suggest a qualified man. Dulles himself served in such an advisory role with former President Eisenhower and other Democratic officials before President Eisenhower's election.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview that the selection by Dulles of a Democrat to act as adviser would be a "proper step" toward cementing bipartisan cooperation on international affairs.

But Fulbright and other Democrats willing to comment made it clear that they are considerably more interested in having members of their party consulted about controversial issues in advance of any decision upon them than they are in having a Democrat assigned to the State Department.

"The real way for the administration to get cooperation is to invite the Democrats in and ask their advice before policy decisions are made, not just to notify them before it is publicly announced that a decision has been reached," Fulbright said.

Eisenhower has invited Democratic and Republican leaders to a White House meeting Nov. 17, and one influential senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he thinks the Democrats will try to find out at that session just where they stand.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he thought it would be an excellent idea for Dulles to have a Democrat at his elbow for consultation when crises arose.

Fulbright said he thinks the choice of a man for the suggested post should be left to Sen. George (D-Ga.), who expects to head the Foreign Relations Committee if the Democrats organize the new Senate in January, as they now are in a position to do.

He said he doubted that Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee who was one of the top spokesmen for the party in this year's congressional campaign, would consent to become a Dulles adviser.

PROGRESS IN CANCER CONTROL HEARTENING

CHICAGO (AP)—Edward Ross Wilson of Chicago, president of the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society, said Friday that heartening progress in cancer control has been made during the past year.

Addressing the division's eighth annual conference attended by key workers from all sections of the state, he said:

"At the end of 1954 we have come closer to our goal: the control of cancer. In public knowledge of the disease, in the knowledge of our doctors and facilities at our hospitals, and in the number of research investigators, notable advances have taken place."

The adult cell dies as soon as its parting season is over.

Fred Snite, Polio Victim, Dies; Lived 18 Years In Iron Lung

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Friends said "a brave heart grew too tired from the strain."

His body was being returned to Miami Beach.

Snite was stricken with complete paralysis at Peiping, China, in April 1936, a few weeks before his 26th birthday. He lay at death's door in a Chinese hospital for months, then was taken to his home in Chicago in an iron lung at $50,000.

Since then he has married and become the father of three children. His fortitude and good nature became an inspiration to thousands and his fame became worldwide.

Lying flat on his back in the cylindrical "iron lung," he had traveled many thousands of miles including a journey to the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France where he prayed for a return to active life.

The prayers were only partially answered, and then by the development of a lightweight "lung" which permitted him to sit up a few hours at a time. He could actually leave the artificial respirator for short periods.

Snite's father told close friends early this week that the "Boiler Kid"—as Fred Jr. good-naturedly called himself—was ailing from a stomach ulcer.

There was no official announcement of the cause of death, but "Europeanize" the Saar.

Bricker Comes To Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was assailed Friday as a spreader of "slush and slime," and defended as a victim of spiteful slanders, in the week's final session of the Senate debate on the question of censuring him.

The slush and slime charge came from Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), a member of the special committee which recommended censure for McCarthy.

Stennis argued the Senate must "condemn" McCarthy's conduct in order to set a standard of political honor.

Republican Sen. Bricker (Ohio) and Goldwater (Ariz.) came swiftly to McCarthy's defense, praising him as the symbol of American resistance to communism and blaming Communist influence for the move to rebuke him.

Finally a second member of the censure committee, Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), took the floor and protested sharply against McCarthy's charge that the committee members were "unwitting handmaidens" of the Communist party.

Carlson declared McCarthy's accusation—made in a speech he put into the Congressional Record Wednesday—was untrue, was a violation of Senate rules and "is therefore out of order."

The Kansas lawmaker likewise protested what he called the "jingoistic inquiries" with which the McCarthy side has been bombarding committee members, and declared any "rear-guard" action to delay the proceedings will not go down well with the voters back home.

"We can certainly solve this problem," Carlson said, "without the sacrifice of the dignity of this chamber."

Goldwater (R-Ariz.) described the censure move as "the culminating act to destroy America's foremost fighter against communism," and accused McCarthy's foes of hypocrisy.

"The masterminds in this fight have said one thing and meant another," Goldwater declared. "Their propaganda has dripped with idealism, high-mindedness, and lofty sentiments. Their deeds have come from the darkness."

"All the discredited and embittered figures of the Hiss-Yalta period of American dishonor have crawled out from under their logs to join the efforts to get even. I have dipped in the smut pot to discredit Sen. McCarthy and his work against communism."

ELLIS ISLAND CLOSES

NEW YORK (AP)—Ellis Island, through whose portals some 20 million immigrants passed in 62 years, was closed down today.

The last alien housed on the historic little island in New York Harbor came off at 10:15 a.m. and a few hours later the last load of furniture was ferried ashore.

All immigration activities have been consolidated at the district headquarters in mid-Manhattan occupied by the service a decade ago.

Editorial Comment

FUTURE OF SOUTH VIET NAM

Under the terms of the Geneva truce on Indo-China, nationwide elections are to be held in that country some time in 1956. But there seems to be a growing danger that the Communists will seize the free portion—South Viet Nam—before any elections can take place.

Reports from Washington say South Viet Nam is now the most perilous spot for freedom anywhere on the globe.

Administration of the territory is said to have broken down as a result of bitter factional quarrels on the local level. And Communists from the Red-held zones of North Viet Nam are resorting to every conceivable trick to divide and confuse the leaders and the populace.

The tremendous pressure from infiltrating Reds was, of course, foreseen at the time the truce was settled last July. No one imagined the Communists would sit idly by and give the free forces of Indo-China opportunity to build an orderly regime to the south.

But, now that the forecasts of trouble are becoming a reality, the supporters of freedom in Asia cannot content themselves with a shrug of hopelessness and proceed to write off the rest of Indo-China.

If there is any solid purpose to keep South Viet Nam out of the Communist orbit, then obviously no time is to be lost in developing a course of action. Information reaching Washington suggests that waiting even until mid-1955 might be fatal.

When freedom starts to die in a country, it is often extremely difficult to say at what stage the case becomes truly hopeless. The only safe assumption is that every month is precious. For the process of death clearly is helped along by a policy of drift.

The West permitted matters to drift in northern Indo-China. Who now can say when the loss of that rich region to communism became inevitable?

Free nations cannot go on forever putting off painful decisions and then debating frantically whether to rush last-minute military aid to attempt the salvage of one more tottering land.

This is the time to confer on the problem, while there is still some prospect of saving what remains of free Indo-China. The Communists should be given to understand that we do not intend to let this soil pass into their hands by default.

How to prevent this happening without somehow involving American and European troops is no easy matter, but it will have to be faced eventually, so why delay? Delay is simply the ally of the Communists.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "After 25 years in the movie business, I'm not going to work my head off."

This was Clark Gable talking. He was reflecting on his past, present and future in his usual off-handed manner. A big man with an easy grin, he lacks any pretense. He scoffs at the title of him despite the fact that films of other stars earn more money.

Although he has two or three pictures lined up and could name his deal at any studio in town, he indicated he will space his work with plenty of time between films. Does this mean he is "loaded" financially?

"Let's say I'm in pretty good shape," said Gable, who is considered one of the most money-wise of stars. "I'm not rich by any means. But I'm comfortable. That's all I ask of life—to be warm, well-fed and comfortable."

Among the comforts and diversions he enjoys in life are good female companionship, travel and fishing. He'll talk for hours about fishing—about the only subject on which he is voluble. I asked him why he liked it so much.

"Because fishing is a lazy man's sport," he said, "and that's me—a lazy man. I like to hunt, but there's a lot of walking involved. Fishing is easy; you can just sit and wait."

Gable's longest stretch of traveling was in 1952 and '53 when he spent 22 months abroad. He was one of the stars seeking tax benefits by working out of the country. He said he enjoyed the European life and hopes to return there. But his big ambition is for a safari through Africa, where he filmed "Mogambo."

"Mostly I'll just travel. The game don't interest me. I like the smaller game—sheep, deer, ducks, geese and so forth."

When he is in town—which isn't often between pictures, Gable says at his home in the San Fernando Valley. He has lived there since he was married to the late Carol Lombard, 15 years ago.

As Gable climbed into his sleek convertible, I asked him about a report that his doctor had told him to cut down on the party life.

He grinned. "I saw that, too, and got a big kick out of it. I was drinking a tall highball at the time."

But he has slowed down in one activity: from four packs of cigarettes a day to a few cigarillos.

STURDY GLASSES

PRESCOTT, Ariz. — Herman Edwards, observer in a civilian air patrol plane on a message-dropping training mission, leaned out of the plane to drop a message. The wind whipped off his glasses. The ground crew, 500 feet below, picked them up, unbroken.

Scholars have estimated that it took Noah 120 years to build the ark.

NEW YORK — A voting place on election day is a mirror of America.

The woman in line ahead of me obviously was foreign-born. She spoke with a heavy accent and seemed shy and uncertain, waiting for her turn.

When she came out of the booth, a radiant smile shone in her face, and her expression was uplifted as though she had been in a church. Who knows? Perhaps she comes from one of those countries where national policy is made with a midnight rap on the door, and men reach office over a mound of corpses.

A voting place is a shrine. That little cubicle with the green curtain is the most hallowed and most important place in the life of the citizen. It is a place where the citizen expresses his opinion on the issues of the day. It is a place where the citizen exercises his right of citizenship.

Among the comforts and diversions he enjoys in life are good female companionship, travel and fishing. He'll talk for hours about fishing—about the only subject on which he is voluble. I asked him why he liked it so much.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The United States has moved so far from its prewar isolation—under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations—that now it is linked to the defense of other nations spanning the world.

It has agreements with allies in Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Pacific. The agreements are not all the same, varying in the degree to which the United States pledges itself to aid its allies.

The extent of the American commitments was illustrated again Wednesday when President Eisenhower asked the Senate to approve this country's membership in SEATO, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The first big step out of isolation came when the United States joined the United Nations, whose 50 members are banded together for the expressed purpose of preserving peace.

This is the calendar of how the United States has sought peace through collective arrangements around the world.

Previous Attacks of Rheumatic Fever Do Not Guarantee Immunity; Plan Prevention

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It is possible to give a more encouraging reply to today's first letter than would have been possible even a few years ago.

Q My little girl has had four attacks of rheumatic fever, the first when she was 2½ years old. She had her tonsils out at 4½ and has had no further attacks for the past two years. Can I be sure that she will have no more?

A—Attacks of rheumatic fever are known to come after infections with a germ known as a streptococcus such as a sore throat. Good results in preventing these attacks of streptococcus infections have been obtained by giving penicillin to those who are susceptible to these germs. In a little girl who has had four attacks of rheumatic fever the possibility of setting up such a preventive program should be carefully reviewed with the doctor in charge since further attacks should be avoided if at all possible and one cannot count on freedom from further attacks.

Q Is there any reason why a pregnant woman's hair should change from one color to another?

A—Change in hair color does occasionally occur in pregnancy and following severe infections or even operations. This is a change in the pigment present in the hair but why it develops I believe no one knows. In any event if it does happen there does not seem much which can be done about it.

Q You mentioned the use of oil in helping to pass kidney stones in one of your columns. What kind of oil should I take?

A—There is no oil which can be taken by mouth which is likely to aid in the passage of kidney stones. Occasionally the area just below the kidney stone can be reached by a special instrument and a little oil placed in the passageway which aids the stone on its course. This is not possible in all cases but it was this rather than oil by mouth which was meant.

Q About 10 years ago I fell on a cement sidewalk and hurt my knees. One of them never seemed just right after the fall and the last few months there has been a large lump on it the size of an egg, which is not painful. Should something be done for this or should I be left alone?

A—The answer depends on nature of the lump and whether it is likely to damage the knee further. It could be a piece of cartilage which has broken off or one of several other possibilities. If I had such a condition I should consult an orthopedic surgeon.

Q I would like to know how to reduce my legs and thighs. Are there any special exercises?

A—Unfortunately there are no special exercises which can be relied on to reduce the size of a particular part of the body. Quite likely if the weight of the body as a whole is reduced by dieting the size of these enlarged portions would be the first to be affected. There may, however, be a family tendency involved which would make it difficult to obtain any satisfactory results.

State Department 'Cleanup' Is a Never-Ending Job

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — NEA—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' firing of Foreign Service Officer John Paton Davies Jr. after 23 years as a career diplomat, spot-ting against the fact that the State Department "cleanup" is still going on.

As a matter of fact it will never ever any new information is received. No State Department employee on any employee, his case will have been investigated and cleared.

In the case of John Davies, he was investigated and cleared eight times. The ninth time they fired him for feeling of job security. But to him—not for disloyalty—but for Security Administrator McLeod, "lack of judgement, discretion and this is simply good personnel policy reliability." That is the pattern as followed in any business. Anybody who works for a living, even

As of Oct. 31, says Scott W. McLeod, the president of a big corporation, State Department employees can be fired if he misbehaves.

American Menu

Turnips and Apples Are a Country Thanksgiving Dish

BY GAYNOR MADDON
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Old-fashioned country Thanksgiving menus included mashed rutabagas or yellow turnips. Want to try them this year mixed with sliced rutabagas?

Mashed Rutabagas (or yellow turnips) and Fresh Apples

(Yield: 4 servings)

Three cups sliced rutabagas, 1½ cups sliced fresh tart cooking apples, 1-inch boiling water in pan, ½ teaspoon each salt and sugar, 1½ tablespoons margarine or butter, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper.

Cook rutabagas and apples until tender (about 5 minutes), in covered saucepan containing 1 inch boiling water and 1 teaspoon each salt and sugar. Remove from heat and mash. Add margarine and ground black pepper.

Note: Cook rutabagas in uncovered saucepan in water to cover if you object to their strong flavor. However, more of the nutrients are lost by this method. The above method saves food value, but the flavor is stronger.

Here's a delightful vegetable combination. Goes well with roast turkey.

Fresh Spinach Ring with Shredded Beets

(Yield: 8 servings)

Two pounds fresh uncooked spinach, 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper.

Cook spinach in water to cover if you object to their strong flavor. However, more of the nutrients are lost by this method. The above method saves food value, but the flavor is stronger.

Mother Of Five Found Guilty Of Ill Tot's Murder

RINGGOLD, Ga. (AP)—A young mother of five children, whose divorced husband is in prison, has been convicted of murder in the death of her 2 1/2-year-old paralytic daughter.

An all-male Catoosa County Superior Court jury returned the guilty verdict against Mrs. Joyce McNeese, 24, shortly before midnight Thursday and recommended mercy, which required that Judge Freeman McClure sentence her to "confinement at hard labor for the rest of her normal life."

Mrs. McNeese, married at 16, was charged with slaying Donna Jane McNeese, "by beating, choking and smothering and by other means to the grand jury unknown," Sept. 6.

Several witnesses testified Mrs. McNeese told them she had whipped the child with a belt because "she was crying and wouldn't quit."

In one of several dramatic periods of the one-day trial, Mrs. McNeese took the stand and said: "I just know I didn't do it. I couldn't do it. Don't feel sorry for me because I'm crying. I tried to doctor her that night before putting her to bed."

"I held her and held her. She just looked at me. She had a fever. I sent her alcohol and aspirin. I just know I didn't kill that baby."

Dr. Herman D. Jones of the Georgia Crime Laboratory testified that death was caused by smothering or strangling.

Donna Jane was one of twins, the youngest children of the McNeeses, and was paralyzed from the waist down, testimony showed. The defendant's father, Lloyd Gordy, told newsmen the child also was blind in one eye.

After she was sentenced to life imprisonment, Mrs. McNeese, a waitress and cook, told McClure she did not want another trial. "I don't care what they do," she sobbed.

THAT'S A LOT OF BULL—That bull which Leroy Stanton is trying to budge at the Chicago stockyards is a tough character. The Hereford is one of several being cared for by Leroy and 40 members of the Valentine Boys' Club, who are learning about farm life. The boys will also take part in judging cattle at the International Livestock Show.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States, whose Point Four program for aiding the economies of underdeveloped countries has been held almost to token proportions by small appropriations, is preparing to make new moves in this general field.

Point Four was designed to help create health, technical, agricultural and legal atmospheres which would attract private investment, primarily American, into countries which needed to develop their own resources to make them better able to import their needs and reduce their susceptibility to communism.

In the long run, but not as a primary objective, the United States expects to get bread from the waters in the form of broadened export markets.

Now the government has announced a new plan, designed more as an adjunct of the World Bank and of the Export-Import Bank than of Point Four, to set up a new international pool—with the lion's share of the money put up by the United States as usual—to make loans for private developments in underdeveloped countries. This would be a rotating loan fund, not a gift as are the services of Point Four.

In addition, the United States appears to be taking a slightly warmer view of extension of the United Nations technical aid program, which is close kin to Point Four and to which this country also is a relatively heavy contributor, although this, too, is a small program.

All this comes at a time when the Export-Import Bank is increasing its aid to foreign trade by advancing money to American exporters in anticipation of their collections abroad.

The World Bank, another rotating pool, does its business with governments. The new pool plan envisions creation of the pool by government advances of money. The details have not been worked out, but presumably loans would be restricted to nationals of countries which have made such deposits.

Since the United States contribution is now estimated at approximately 100 million dollars, you can see that this will be no great program such as the Marshall Plan, on which billions went out annually for three years. If all the other countries put up a hundred million it will be able to finance about as much business as does a 200 million bank, which is fair but not exciting on a world basis.

In addition, however, it is hoped the fund will act as a sort of

UAW At 2 Plants Approve Strike: Would Idle 27,000

DETROIT (AP)—A strike which would cripple production and idle some 27,000 hourly and salaried employees of the Chrysler Corp.'s Automotive Body Division in Detroit and Evansville, Ind., has been approved by CIO United Auto Workers in the two plants.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer and director of the union's ABD department, said he would seek immediate strike authorization from the UAW executive board.

Mazey said the dispute involved grievance issues in both plants. There are about 24,000 ABD workers in Detroit and 2,900 in Evansville.

A strike could halt output of Chrysler's 1955 models. The ABD builds bodies for the corporation's Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler and Imperial cars.

Chrysler officials had no immediate comment on the strike threat.

Specific grievances listed by Mazey included the company's failure to reinstate 25 office workers discharged prior to a National Labor Relations Board election, a contract for office workers, production standards disputes, health and safety problems, reclassification of wage rates and violations of seniority provisions.

Minister Admits Accidental Killing: Preached Funeral

BLAIRSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A Baptist minister admitted that while on a hunting trip six days ago he accidentally fired a shot which killed a companion at whose funeral he later preached.

Lt. Woody Wilson of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said Thursday night the Rev. Carl Brewer, 46-year-old pastor of four rural churches in Union County, admitted the accident in a statement issued through his attorney.

The minister said the attorney, Jack G. Tarpley, quoted the minister as telling this story of the incident:

He and Alvin Towse, 46-year-old farmer and the father of eight children, became separated while hunting Nov. 5. The minister said he fired at a squirrel and that when he went to retrieve the animal, he discovered Towse's body.

The minister said he notified Sheriff Verge Kelly but "because of fear of the consequences and shock" did not admit his part.

Wilson said the minister preached Towse's funeral Monday and that they were reported to have been "the best of friends."

Wilson said no official action was contemplated pending outcome of a coroner's inquest.

Church Built By Volunteer Labor To Be Dedicated

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The New Hope Lutheran church, the product of donated labor by many persons in Jerseyville and surrounding towns, will be dedicated at special services Sunday.

Stained glass windows in the church were made by a graduate student of the school of fine arts of the University of Illinois. The hand-made altar coverings also were donated.

Much of the work was done at night by members of the congregation.

The Rev. George Beiderwieden of the Pilgrim Lutheran church of Decatur, Ill., will speak at the dedication services at 3 p.m.

Nut In Landing Gear Forced Crash Landing Of Plane

CHICAGO (AP)—An investigation has disclosed that a small nut lodged in the landing gear mechanism forced the crash-landing of an airliner with 43 persons aboard.

The American Airlines Convair crash-landed at Glenview Naval Air Station Tuesday. It had circled Chicago for an hour after the right landing gear jammed. The plane was ordered to land at Glenview because the Navy field has a longer runway and less traffic than Chicago's Midway Airport.

No one was injured in the crash-landing.

American's regional operations officer, William B. Whitacre, said Thursday the trouble was caused by a small nut about the size of a pencil eraser.

He said the nut apparently was picked up by a tire, fell into the channel of the landing gear and jammed.

Entire Detective Force Of Mexican Town Is Arrested

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—The entire Tijuana detective force, 27 men, was arrested Thursday night on orders of Army Capt. Salvador Avelas Olivera.

Police said the arrests followed a statement by Raoul Casares that Tijuana detectives had taken from him $9,000 of the $10,000 loot from a Los Angeles robbery.

Dist. Atty. Leonida Miranda Bello, said Casares admitted he and two accomplices took the $10,000 in a robbery in Los Angeles and deposited the money in a Tijuana bank.

When the men returned to get the money, Miranda Bello said he was told, three Tijuana detectives took $9,000 of the loot and told Casares and his accomplice to get out of town.

Casares was arrested in Mexico City and returned here. No charges have been filed.

Widowed By Plane Crash Second Time

WINOOSKI, Vt. (AP)—Mrs. Shannon Smith, mother of two small children, has been widowed by an Air Force plane crash for the second time in 10 years.

Her husband, Capt. Mahlon A. Smith II, 30, Sioux City, Iowa, was killed Thursday when he veered his Sabrejet plane onto a field to avoid landing in a thickly populated area.

In 1944, Mrs. Smith's first husband, Lt. "Ish" Abbott disappeared in Florida while piloting a plane on a training flight.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four services regularly every person should attend: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Father and Son—and the Bible! The three of us make a team that the two of us could never match.

It's always been that way—as long as man has possessed holy treasures of truth to which he could turn for guidance.

A father can make a better man of his son by companionship and example. A son can make a better man of his father by the natural inspiration that comes with parental devotion. And the Bible can make better men of both, by molding their lives to the pattern God Himself provided.

For 138 years the American Bible Society has been translating, publishing, and distributing copies of Scripture in more than 60 countries, in 165 languages. Sightless people alone have these precious words in 38 systems and languages. Give the Society the support it deserves!

And give the Bible the place in your family's life that It deserves!

PHILIPPINES LAND REFORM

MANILA (P)—The Filipino tenant farmer has been handed what proponents call the most progressive land reform to be passed anywhere in Asia to meet the age-old hunger for land. The new law grants increased management rights to tenants and a better security of tenure. A tenant now can be evicted only by court action. All doubts

STARTING YOUNG — Five-year-old Susanne Blanchard, of Albany, N. Y., was named "Little Miss U. S. A." in a contest in New York City. Susanne won about $7500 worth of prizes in the contest for young ladies three to 12 years of age.

V.F.W. Auxiliary At White Hall Asks For Toys

WHITE HALL—V.F.W. Auxiliary to Post 7684 met Monday night at the V.F.W. home with Mary Louise Hardwick presiding.

Pat Gillis was voted to membership. A cash donation of $500 was voted to the American Legion's "Gifts to the Yanks" program now in progress. Christmas stamps sent the Auxiliary from the V.F.W. National Home were distributed to members and a cash donation sent to pay same. The meeting on Monday night, Nov. 22, will be potluck supper at 6:30 with Mrs. Pearl Carmelli, president of District 12, as guest.

Mrs. Earl Kircher will be in charge of the annual project of toys and clothing for the children of the community. Anyone having such articles is asked to get in touch with either Mrs. Kirchner or the president, Mrs. Hardwick. Toys will be repaired if sent in early enough, prior to Christmas distribution.

It was voted to hold the Christmas party at the home on Dec. 13, instead of the 27th of the month.

Secret sisters will be revealed at the Christmas party and names drawn for the ensuing year, and a gift exchange held by those who do not have Secret sisters.

ANOTHER ARIZONA

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Gov. Howard Pyle has sent an Arizona state flag to C. Allan Stewart, former Arizona newspaperman now charge d'affaires of the American embassy in Costa Rica. The flag will be flown at the dedication of a school in Arizona de Abangares, Costa Rica.

Frogs have black pigment cells in their skin which they can contract or expand. When they are enlarged, the animal appears dark, while it is paler when the pigment cells are contracted.

GERMANS WATCH TAXES

STUTTGART, Germany (P)—West Germany's Taxpayers League, founded after America pattern five years ago, is now this republic's most alert watchdog on public finances. A two-room barren office in a private apartment has developed into a two-floor headquarters in a new Stuttgart office building where 15 tax experts help to protect private citizens' interests.

Professor Karl Brauer, who lectured on finance at three universities, heads the league.

It is highly critical of the present tax system but does not regard individual tax officials as responsible. "They are mere scapegoats," the league says. "It is the system which is rotten," Brauer says.

it's got a "V" in its bonnet—or your choice of two new sixes!

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Great new

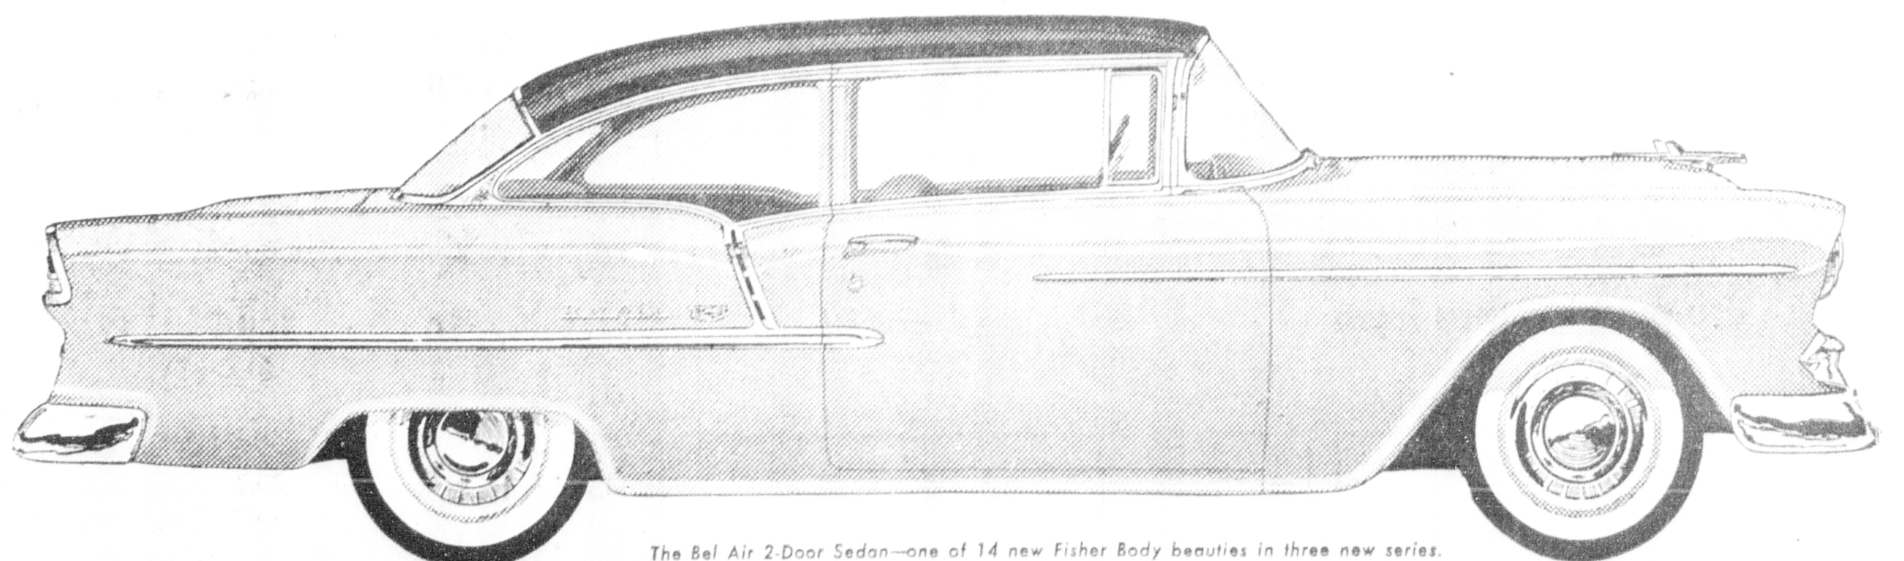

Two new 6's

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

You'd expect Chevrolet to out-V8 the field—and it has! Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" puts a brand-new kind of excitement under your foot. The excitement of 162 horsepower! The excitement of an 8 to 1 ultra-high compression ratio that squeezes more pure fun out of a gallon of gas than you ever dreamed possible! The new "Turbo-Fire V8" is so wonderfully efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more. And it has the shortest piston stroke in the low-price field, for longer engine life. But we can't even begin to give you the whole story here. Come in and let the new "Turbo-Fire V8" speak for itself. You'll like what it has to say!

With enough new advances to fill a book!

Chevrolet offers two new highstepping sixes for 1955! There's the new "Blue-Flame 136" (teamed with Powerglide as an extra-cost option) and the new "Blue-Flame 123." Both bring you new, higher-rated power—the zippy, thrifty high-compression kind. Both have new, more efficient cooling and lubrication systems... new engine mounts that result in almost unbelievable smoothness. And, like the new "Turbo-Fire V8," both are sparked by a new 12-volt electrical system for finer performance and faster cold-weather starting. All in all, they're the liveliest, smoothest sixes Chevrolet ever put into a passenger car. As you know, that covers a lot of territory. And so will you—with either of these two new sixes!

The Bel Air 2-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series.

More than a new car... a new CONCEPT of low-cost motoring
(and much too good to miss driving!)

Fire Destroys Barn Of Roy Short Near Carrollton

CARROLLTON — A barn on the Roy Short farm near Carrollton burned Wednesday about 3 p.m. and was estimated to be a total loss of between $6,000 and $7,000. The fire is reported to have started in the hayloft.

Vernon Tney, who lives on the farm, was in the field when his wife discovered the fire and had to be called in to fight the blaze. Tney lost approximately 1300 bushels of hay, 400 bushels of corn, 100 bushels of soy bean seed, a combine, plows and hand tools in the fire. The silo connected to the barn was also damaged.

Tney was taken to the Boyd Memorial hospital for treatment of burns about the face and hands.

Baptist Class At Manchester Meets At Elliott Home

MANCHESTER — The Room-for-You class of the Manchester Baptist church Sunday school department met Tuesday, Nov. 9, at the home of Mollie Elliott. There were 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Lula Bayle, present.

The president, Theresa Brown, opened the meeting by having the group sing, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Miss Brown closed with prayer. Roll call was answered with a poem or Bible verse containing the word "thankful," or "Thanksgiving."

After the business session and the secretary's report a social hour was enjoyed with Mollie Elliott and Jessie Green in charge. At the meeting were Bertha McClure, Bertha Walker, Lottie Barber, Lula Bayle, Ida Whitlock, Theresa Brown, Lennie Wright, Ethel Heaton, Jessie Green, Kella Kelley, Nellie Duncan, Stella Copley and the hostess.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments of fruit salad topped with whipped cream, cookies, coffee and mint.

The next meeting of the class will be a Christmas party to be held Tuesday, Dec. 14, at the church. Members will have a gift exchange and reveal names of mystery pals.

Personals
Mrs. Frieda White was taken to Illini hospital Wednesday evening by her son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll White, of Petersburg, Virginia, for emergency treatment for a badly crushed finger which she had caught in the car door when alighting from the car in which they were riding. She was released after treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll White have been visiting in the home of their mother the past week. Both have recently been released from service after 12 years in the army. Mrs. White served as an army nurse. White is now employed as a mailman in Petersburg.

A. H. Helms, 33, of Pleasant Hill, employed by the Mid-States Trucking company as a mechanic, was given emergency treatment at the local hospital on Wednesday. While putting grease in the rear wheel of a truck a piece of steel flew off, entering his left forearm, causing a painful wound. He was released after treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conboy plan to move to Bowling Green, Mo., soon, where he is a partner in garment manufacturing business. They have been living in Pittsfield and he has commuted to his business in Missouri. Mrs. Conboy has resigned her position as book keeper at the Zimmerman Brothers garage.

Mrs. Viola Jones, chairman of the TB Seal Sale in Pike county, reports that the seals will be in the mail on November 15. Students in typing at the high school have assisted her by typing all the letters which will be included in the envelope with the seals soon to be in the mail.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dyer, of N. Monroe street, are parents of a son born at Illini hospital Thursday morning.

His duties are that of a platoon commander. Students who finish the Navy training will receive commissions in the Navy or the Marine Corps. Lacy is a senior at the University this year.

RETIREES TO WORK

ASHLAND, Va. (AP)—Albert Sydney Johnstone retired seven years ago after serving for 29 years as personnel officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. But retirement for Johnstone just meant dropping bank work and the start of a new career.

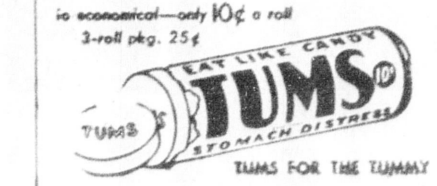

He entered Union Theological Seminary at Richmond as a candidate for the ministry. Now at 70 he is retiring again after five years as pastor of the Ashland Presbyterian Church.

He plans to serve as supply for any churches in the Richmond-Ashland area where pulpits are temporarily vacated.

Sellout Expected As Badgers Visit Illini In Homecoming Tilt

Michigan Wins 40th Big Ten Cross Country

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan won its first title since 1922 and its second in conference history and Indiana's Jim Lambert took the individual crown Friday in the 40th Big Ten cross country championship.

With Iowa's Rich Ferguson, who sought his third straight individual title, quitting with leg cramps, Lambert was 80 yards ahead of Ohio State's Bob Golden with a 19:56.6 clocking for the 4-mile event.

Favored Ferguson hobbled off the course during the final mile.

Although Michigan's top performer was fourth-finishing John Moulie, the Wolverines had five finishers among the first 20 to complete their winning total of 55 points.

In the Central Collegiate Conference cross-country meet, held immediately after the Big Ten run at Washington Park, Notre Dame easily defeated Western Michigan with 29 points as Irish runner Will Squires triumphed in 20:16.3.

Second in the Big Ten team scoring was Michigan State, meet winner for the past three years, with 75 points. Other team scoring: Illinois 81, Indiana 87, Ohio State 89 and Wisconsin 95. Minnesota lacked a full team and did not score, while Northwestern and Purdue failed to compete.

Murrayville Tops Patterson 56-32

MURRAYVILLE — (Special) — The grade school basketball season got under way at Murrayville last night as the host grade five defeated Patterson 56-32. Suttles led the scoring for the evening as he dumped in 28 points. Pate added 17 for the winners.

The Murrayville second team defeated the Patterson second stringers 20-12 in the curtain raiser.

Gridiron Battles May Reach Peak Today

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

The long college football season draws closer to the end Saturday with a lot of unfinished business before the New Year's Day bowl games are filled and all conference matters settled.

Major games are on tap from coast to coast, and there is a possibility a couple of bowl sets Saturday will be known before the sun sets Saturday.

Two teams leading the bowl scramble at the moment are Arkansas and Ohio State, and they have a couple of toughie battles the way. Ohio State with an eye on the Pasadena Rose Bowl, plays upset-minded Purdue at Lafayette, Ind.

Southern Methodist invades Fayetteville, Ark., to meet the Razorbacks, who are leading the Southwest Conference race. All Arkansas needs is a tie to clinch a berth in the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl scrap at Dallas.

Ohio State, No. 2 team in the country, could clinch the Big Ten title by beating Purdue and with the aid of two big "ifs" Iowa would have to defeat Minnesota at Minneapolis and Michigan State beat Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Purdue could gum up the Ohio State, especially if Michigan and Minnesota should win. Each of the latter has lost one conference game.

In other major clashes, Oklahoma plays Missouri, North Carolina tackles Notre Dame, Georgia Tech has Alabama in the TV game, Auburn meets Georgia, Southern California plays Washington, while CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 12—Illinois matches backfield speed against Wisconsin weight and power in Memorial Stadium Saturday, with hopes of providing an upset victory for a sellout crowd of 71,119 celebrating the 44th annual Homecoming of the University.

Illini partisans were cheered on a row of battle by the announcement that All-American halfback J. C. Caroline probably will be available for concentrated action. Coach Ray Eliot indicated, however, that he still will start sophomore Harry Jefferson in the left halfback position, using Caroline as a spot player.

Definitely lost to Illinois is 217-pound tackle Rudy Sievert, a 60-minute performer against Michigan last week. Sievert suffered a cartilage injury in the right knee and has been ruled out of further competition this season. Several other Illini have minor injuries, but should be ready Saturday.

Tackle Bob Konosky, who missed last week's Northwestern game, apparently is only Badger who will not be ready for full-time duty this week. Fullback Alan Ameche has not engaged in contact, but is expected to recover from a leg injury before Saturday.

Passing may play an important role in Saturday's battle, with Wisconsin putting its outstanding one-two combination of Jim Miller and Jim Hahska against Illinois' steadily improving Ed Lindbeck. Eliot feels that Badgers' power is their major threat, since the Illini have been effective on pass defense throughout the season. Illinois would like to stay on the ground too, but may have to rely on throwing to spring its speedy runners.

Illini will be outweighed 17 pounds per man in the line. Eliot's light, mobile forward wall will include Dean Renn and Steve Nosek, ends Percy Oliver and Don Tate, tackles, Jan Smid and George Walsh, guards, and Jack Chamblin, center. Walsh, hard-driving junior from Atwood, will be making his first starting appearance after impressing in relief against Purdue and Michigan.

Joining Landbeck and Jefferson in the backfield will be sophomore Abe Woodson at right halfback and "Mickey" Bates at fullback.

The game is the thirty-first in a series which has brought 12 wins for Illini, 14 for Wisconsin, and four ties. Last Illinois victory was a 14-0 decision in Memorial Stadium in 1951 en route to the Rose Bowl.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—This was at a little party arranged by Cappy Wells for the unveiling of the AAU swimming award, and as the event was held at the Lambs Club you had to be careful or you would trip over some leading figure in the entertainment world, as the venerable club is the nest of such personalities.

We didn't exactly trip over Edward Hastings Ford. We just found a him comfortably parked on a big leather divan, wearing the rather sad face characteristic of many top-flight humorists who seem to make everyone else laugh but themselves.

Senator Ford, as he is better known to radio and TV fans, started to discuss sports in general, and got around to boxing. He knew Kid McCoy—the real McCoy—very well, and was telling how the Kid developed his so-called cork-arm punch which was a trade-mark.

"He got the idea from a rifle barrel," Ford was saying. "He'd punch with the palm of the hand up, then the forearm would turn at impact to give a grinding, cutting effect with the fist."

"He used to sit in his corner and sag down on his stool with his arms drooping down at his sides. It was just an accident of course that his gloves were dipping in the rosin."

"I remember one of his fights in particular. It was in Brown's Gym in 1911, and he was fighting a fellow named Jim Savage. McCoy was the most dejected looking fellow you ever saw as he sat in his corner before the bell, wearing an old black bathrobe."

"He looked first at Savage's feet, then his eyes traveled slowly upward until he spotted a bandage on the cheek. He sort of smirked—he had a funny way of grinning—and as soon as the bell rang he leaped out and pointed the bandage with his first punch. He kept shooting his left for three rounds and in the fourth crossed his right and it was all over."

"He was a slick one. I remember there used to be a saloon under the Empire Theater on Broadway and McCoy was standing at the bar when a bunch of college boys on the town came in."

"One of them walked up to McCoy and said: 'So you're Kid McCoy. I want a boxing lesson.' The Kid tried to brush him off but the boy was insistent, and tossed a $20 bill on the bar to show he was ready to pay."

"The Kid looked at the bill, then at the boy, and said: 'Know that fellow coming in?' The boy turned to see who it was and McCoy popped him. 'That's the first lesson,' he said. 'Never turn your back on a guy.'"

That's what the man said.

Carrollton Rolls To 33-0 Victory Over Greenfield

CARROLLTON — (Special) — The Carrollton Hawks scored in every period last night to defeat Greenfield 33-0 in an Illinois Valley Conference battle. It was the final game of the season for both clubs.

In the first period Gary Turpin scored his first of three touchdowns on an eight yard pass play. The winners added two more in the second period when Johnson raced 86 yards to score after catching a flat pass. Turpin added the third TD for the Hawks on a one yard plunge later in this second period.

Journey scored the fourth TD in the third period on a ten yard run and Turpin added the final tally in the last period.

May Up Draft Price To $15,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A proposal to pin a $15,000 price tag in the major league draft of minor league baseball players will be submitted to the winter baseball meetings.

A spokesman for Commissioner Ford Frick said Friday the proposal first was presented to the major leagues in July but was tabled to allow time for study. It was drafted by Frick's major-league committee.

Under present baseball rules, players drafted from the Pacific Coast League cost $15,000. From the class AAA leagues they cost $10,000 and, on down to $2,000 for players from class D leagues.

No action can affect this winter's major league draft in New York Nov. 22.

RUSSIANS RUIN HUNCHES

LONDON (AP)—Members of Moscow's visiting Spartak Soccer team ruined the hunch players at the Clapton greyhound track Thursday night.

The Russians went to the stadium as guests of the management for their first look at dog racing. Their presence inspired a lot of bets on a beast named fiery Ivan in the fifth race.

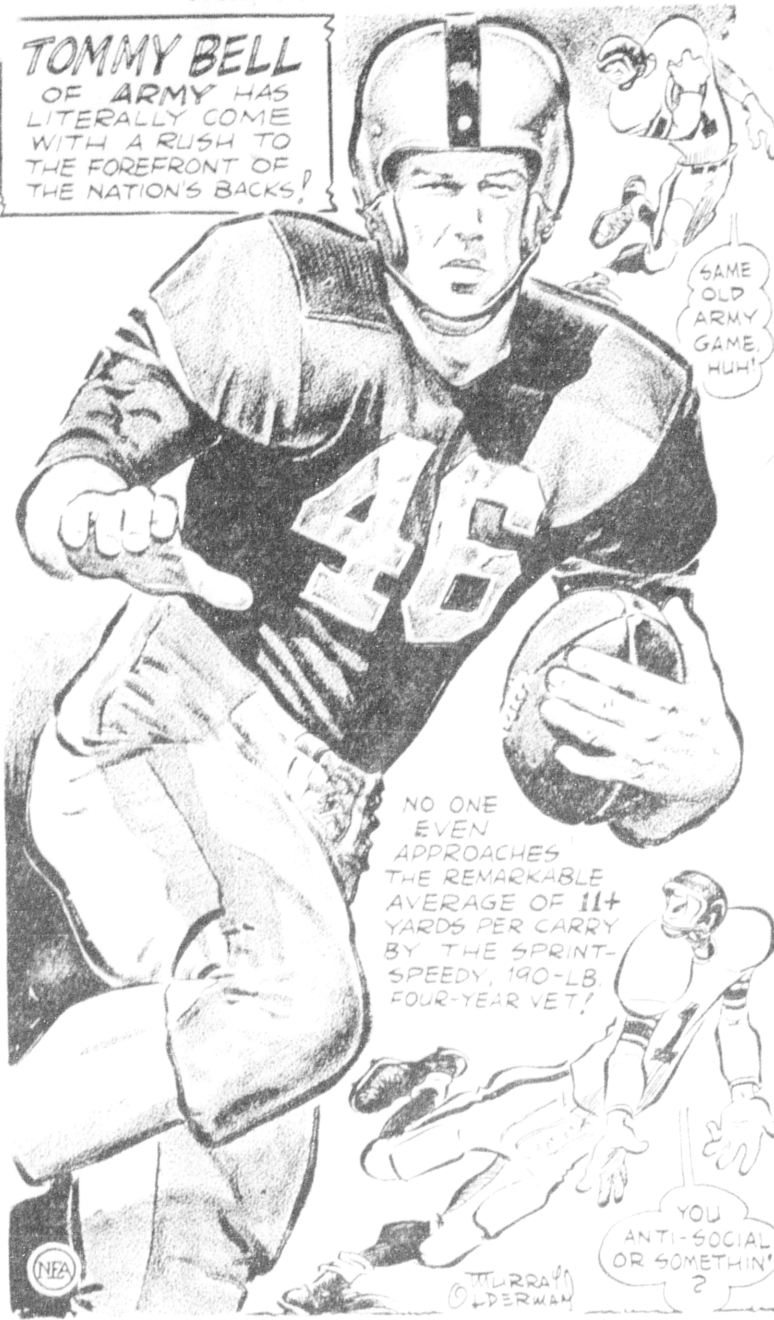

fiery Ivan finished fourth.

Scott Injured As IC Loses To Carthage

CARTHAGE — (Special) — The Illinois College Blueboys ended their 1954 football season with a severe jolt last night. The Blueboys journeyed to Carthage and lost to the Redbirds 45-6. However, the big blow of the game wasn't the score. Halfback Bob Scott was lost to the Illinois College basketball team for at least eight weeks when he suffered a broken collarbone in the third period.

Scott's injury is a tough break for the freshman who was expected to play such an important role in Coach Miller's cage plans for this year.

The hosts took the opening kickoff and raced down the field on a series of eight plays to score. From that time on there was never any doubt as to the outcome.

The Blueboys' only TD came in the third period. Winstead took the kickoff and ran it to the IC 35. He then hit Horsley and Capatosto on successive passes moving the ball to the Carthage 40. The Blue-boy quarterback picked up 25 yards around end moving to the 15 before hitting Dick Barnes who scampered the remaining distance to score. The try for extra point was not good.

Don Hazelrigg and Dick Capatosto played good ball on defense for the Blueboys. Hazelrigg blocked the extra point attempts by Carthage while Cappy played his usual fine game backing up the line. Gary Curtis played the entire 60 minutes to raise his total playing time for the year to 420 minutes in seven games for an IC record.

Besides the injury to Scott two other Blueboys were forced to leave the contest. Tackle Dick Farmer suffered a slight concussion and end Jim Rudings left in the second period with a bad knee.

It was the final game of the season for the local college. To add salt to the wounds, the Illinois College locker room was raided during the first half with money, bill folds, keys and other movable objects of monetary value disappearing.

Pittsfield Scores 19-13 Victory Over Winchester; Cop Top Honors In Valley

WINCHESTER — (Special) — Coach Glenn Smith's Pittsfield Saukees clinched first place in the Illinois Valley Conference last night as they scored in the fourth period to defeat Winchester 19-13 in the season's finale for both schools.

The Saukees jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the first period when Aiken fired a pass to Junior Smith for a 3-yard TD play.

The Wildcats turned around to put on a drive of their own and go ahead. Pat Lashmet returned the Pittsfield kick to the 41 yard line. Runs by Lashmet and Bob Benton, plus a Redshaw to Hubble, pass moved the ball to the Pittsfield 10. Benton went over for the touchdown and also scored on the extra point to push Winchester ahead 7-6.

In the second period the Saukees came back to go ahead, Pittsfield took over on their own 27. Heavener and Frazier carried to the Winchester 32 from where Sanderson raced the state's leading scorer, was held scoreless last night but the Wildcats also ran the extra point and the Saukees enjoyed a half-time lead of 13-7.

Winchester's second TD was set up on a fumble in the fourth period. The Wildcats were forced to punt and after a Pittsfield fumble on the boot, Hubble fell on the ball and the hosts took over on their own 25. A couple of penalties moved the ball to the Pittsfield 35. Pat Lashmet went around left end on a beautiful gallop and carried to the 15. Benton teamed with Lashmet to move the ball to 4 before Redshaw fired a pass to Hubble in the end zone for the touchdown. The conversion was not good and the score was tied at 13 all.

However, the Saukees were not to be stopped. They took the ball on their own 49 and marched down the field to score and break the tie. Paul Smith set up this TD on a 30 yard run moving the ball to Winchester's 32. A Plattner to Barber pass in the end zone sent the Saukees ahead 19-13.

The ball changed hands a couple of times before the game ended with neither side able to do any more damage. Pat Lashmet, the state's leading scorer, was held scoreless last night but the Wildcats also ran the extra point and the Saukees enjoyed a half-time lead of 13-7.

Winchester's second TD was set up on a fumble in the fourth period. The Wildcats were forced to punt

Hector Constance In Split Decision Over Tiger Jones

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Shifty Hector Constance of Trinidad ran his U.S. unbeaten streak in the most to three Friday night by gaining a close and split decision over favored Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Jones outboxed Constance, 161 to 153.

An 8-5 underdog, the rangy, fleet-footed West Indian won the votes of Referee Al Berl and Arthur Susskind by 6 rounds to 4. Judge Frank Forbes had it a draw, 5 rounds and 6 points for each. The Associated Press had Constance in front, 6-3-1.

The slim crowd constantly applauded the intermingling, almost clinch-free fight although there were no knockdowns and neither punched very hard. The 26-year-old Constance threw more punches and landed more often than his heavier rival who appeared very sluggish at 161.

FIRE KILL FISH
NEW YORK (AP)—Forest fires kill many fish in addition to other wildlife. This is the word of Dr. R. W. Eschmeyer, executive vice president of the Sport Fishing Institute.

In discussing the current fire prevention campaign, Dr. Eschmeyer said: "Forest fires cause siltation and excessive warming of trout waters and smallmouth bass streams. Folks can help their fishing by preventing forest fires."

FOAMY RESENTMENT
SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP)—Members of the Lo-Ball team in the Scratch Trio Bowling League didn't like it when teammate Bill Terrill was late for a league session. They decided to penalize their tardy partner. The penalty? Terrill had to pay for 12 beer frames.

Ohio State's Visit To Purdue Key Contest In Big Ten Semifinals

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten football race reaches its semifinal round Saturday with undefeated Ohio State's invasion of Purdue the key contest among three title-significant games.

The Buckeyes, No. 2 in The Associated Press national poll, are a one-touchdown favorite to hurdle the Boilermakers and thus clinch at least a championship tie. Ohio State now leads the Big Ten with 5-0 and Michigan is second with 4-1.

An Ohio State triumph Saturday would require Michigan to conquer Michigan State in a tossup battle before 97,000 at Ann Arbor, Mich. Saturday and then spill the Buckeyes at Columbus the following Saturday to create a final tie between the Bucks and Wolverines.

Saturday's third important clash in the race for a Rose Bowl bid finds Minnesota (3-1) trying to keep alive its outside title chance against visiting Iowa (4-2), a six-point favorite.

The two other conference games send Wisconsin (3-2) to Illinois (4-4) and Indiana (1-3) to Northwestern (4-4). In major Midwest-independent play, Notre Dame is host to North Carolina and Marquette is at College of Pacific.

Ohio State, seeking its eighth straight victory of the season and sixth in the conference, actually is playing its most important game of the season against Purdue (2-2). If the Buckeyes can harness sharpshooting Len Dawson and whip the Boilermakers, they would, for Rose Bowl purposes, at least, have the situation well in hand regardless of the outcome against Michigan.

Under a revised Big Ten Rose Bowl selection method, if the season-ending poll of athletic directors ends in a tie, the first step in breaking the deadlock is to eliminate the last Bowl delegate. In this case presumably it would be Michigan which beat California 14-6 in the 1951 Bowl game, one year after Ohio State nipped California, 17-14, in the 1950 game.

Minnesota, although thumped by Michigan 34-0 Oct. 23 for its only defeat of the season, is handicapped by playing only six conference games, against seven each by Ohio State and Michigan. The Gophers close against Wisconsin a week from Saturday.

The Gophers can gain the title only if Michigan loses Saturday and Ohio State bows to Purdue and loses to or ties Michigan, while Minnesota downs Iowa and Wisconsin.

Canada's Pro Football League To Begin Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Big Four Football Union winds up its regular schedule Saturday with the way already paved for the opening of the playoffs next week in eastern Canada's top pro league.

The Toronto Argonauts tangle with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats and the Montreal Alouettes with the Ottawa Rough Riders with nothing at stake except the final win and last records of each club. The Toronto-Hamilton game will be telecast in the United States (NBC) starting at 1 p.m. CST.

The first place Alouettes will meet the second place Tiger-Cats in the two-game, total-points playoff starting in Hamilton Wednesday. The second game, to be shown on TV to U.S. viewers, will be played in Montreal next Saturday.

The series winner will represent the East in the Grey Cup game for the Canadian pro football championship in Toronto Nov. 27.

MAILMEN CHECK PHEASANTS

BET 10% MILLION
TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Figures released by State Treasurer Archibald S. Alexander Friday show track fans bet 10% million dollars less on horses during New Jersey's 150-day 1954 racing season than they did last year.

Tabulation of figures from New Jersey's three running tracks, Garden State, Monmouth Park and Atlantic City race track, shows $250,228,171 was bet this year compared to $260,786,628 in 1953, which also had a 150-day season.

N.Y. Boxing Officials Hear 21 Witnesses

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—The State Athletic Commission Friday heard 21 witnesses in an inquiry into charges of alleged "blacklisting and discrimination" by the New York Boxing Managers Guild against members of the recently formed Metropolitan Boxing Alliance.

Members of the MBA claim they are being blacklisted because they refuse to pay $100 for each TV performance of a main event boxing card.

At the conclusion of more than six hours of testimony, the commission, with chairman Robert K. Christenberry presiding, ordered the inquiry continued until next Friday.

Matchmakers, promoters and managers were heard Friday. In addition 13 members of the alliance, mainly composed of managers, gave affidavits to the commission.

Manuel Robbins, attorney for the commission, asked the promoters and matchmakers whether the New York Boxing Guild had exerted any influence to keep non-members and

Conference Looks Into Eligibility Of Army's Back

NEW YORK (AP)—Asa A. Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, said Friday the eligibility of Tommy Bell, Army halfback, was being studied by appropriate committees of the ECAC and that a prompt decision could be expected.

It was discovered Thursday that Bell, who has averaged 11.59 yards a try from his right halfback post, was playing his fifth season with the Cadets, two of them as freshmen.

Bushnell's office pointed out that both the military and naval academies had received permission to waive certain sections of the normal eligibility rules and that the Bell case required special study.

Lt. Col. James T. L. Schwab, graduate manager of athletics, said Army knew of Bell's status but felt the Cadets had not violated any rules.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—In the heaviest trading in nearly four years, the stock market Friday advanced to its fifth straight new 25-year high mark.

Steels were out in front of the rise and they had generous help from most other sections of the market.

The forward move was a continuation of the hard drive upward that the market started right after the election.

Large gains were in the tape in many divisions. They frequently were in the range of $1 to around $3 and some ran on up to $8. Losses were not too great and came to between $1 and $2 as a general rule.

Volume amounted to 3,720,000 shares, biggest total of the year and the highest since 3,860,000 shares were traded Jan. 17, 1951.

The crush of business was so great that the high speed ticker twice in the first hour was forced to lag behind in reporting the progress of trading on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

The market has been rising steadily for the past 14 months, and since the election it has been in a new and strong phase of a bull market boom with buyers deluging the market with demands to buy stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents at $143.50, highest since Oct. 15, 1929, when the average stood at $143.70.

All three components of the average established new high marks with the industrials up $1.50 at $197.30, the railroads up 30 cents at $107.90 and the utilities up 10 cents at $65.40.

New York Central made a sensational showing up 1 1/2 at 24 on a huge volume of 148,100 shares as the day's most active issue.

The American Stock exchange was higher, but profit taking made its list look ragged. Volume came high total. That compares with 920,000 shares traded Thursday.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (P)—Light weight butchers sold steady to strong Friday but offerings scaling more than 220 pounds were steady to mostly 25 cents lower. Salable receipts totaled 9,500.

A top of $20.10, another new high since Sept. 28, was paid for 198 head of choice 210-pound butchers. Most butchers scaling 180 to 220 pounds moved at $19.75 to $20.00 with those weighing 230 to 250 going at $19.25 to $19.50. Sows brought $15.50 to $19.25.

Only 700 fresh receipts were available in the cattle section. Steers and heifers were quoted nominally steady with small lots of good and choice steers and heifers moving at $20.50 to $25.50. Bulls were steady, topping at $21.00.

Cows held fully steady. A few commercial kinds reached $13.00. Vealers sold steady to weak at $17.00 to $21.00 for good and choice.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 1,000. Lambs sold steady to weak at $18.00 to $20.00 for good to choice native woolled types. A few mostly choice to prime kinds touched $20.50, the top.

LATE SELLOFF LEAVES GRAINS WITH LOSSES

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (P)—A late selloff left all grains except oats with losses at the close on the Board of Trade Friday.

Selling apparently came mainly from traders who didn't wish to hold onto grains over the weekend. Earlier in the day grains had scored small advances, several contracts of wheat and oats setting new seasonal peaks.

Wheat closed 1 1/4-3/4 lower, corn 1 1/2-2 1/4 lower, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, rye unchanged to 1/4 lower, soybeans 1 to 1 1/4 lower and laid 12 cents lower to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Despite the day's slump wheat ended 1 1/4 to 3 1/4 cents higher for the week.

Corn fell quite sharply in the last hour. Traders evidently expected large receipts of cash corn at terminals Monday. The week has been under for completion of the corn harvest throughout the main producing area.

Oats held up very well during the last hour when everything else was declining. Strength was particularly noticeable in the December delivery. This reflected a strong cash market, a situation created by a good demand for oats for livestock feeding.

Soybeans also were sold on the possibility of large receipts of cash beans Monday, although all reports indicate a very strong withholding tendency upon the part of farmers.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—The bond market moved higher Friday in the heaviest trading session since last January.

"Big Board" volume jumped to $6,204,000 par value to top off a week in which sales exceeded $4,000,000 on each day. Thursday's volume was $4,280,000. It was the biggest day since Jan. 12 when sales amounted to $9,750,000.

Many rails, utilities and industrial bonds joined in the upward swing, while government bonds closed unchanged to 2-32 lower in a dull market.

TV IS PRIZE

MUSKEGON, Mich. (P)—Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers says the television set, after the children and the family car, takes top priority in the settlement of divorce cases as the most sought-after item.

MILD WINTER AHEAD—Mathon Kyrtis, a fisherman-restaurateur who does weather forecasting on the radio, says it is going to have a mild winter. He bases his prediction on the life habits of the perch. Kyrtis says his near-shore nets were filled, while the deep-water ones were almost empty, which tells him the weather will be mild.

conceivable that the company could get more than half a million dollars from the government as indirect payment of its income taxes even if it actually did not have to pay any income taxes at all.

Questioned by Gore, he said the AEC under the contract must pay Dixon-Yates $536,250 a year indirectly to compensate it for income taxes. If the company's operating costs are higher than expected and it makes less money than anticipated, he said, then the government's payment to compensate for taxes would be greater than the amount actually due the Internal Revenue Service.

On the other hand, to be fair, he said, if the company earns a greater return than expected, it would have to pay more income taxes than the amount paid to it by AEC.

AEC Chairman Strauss told the committee he was afraid its hearings had produced "a misleading impression" to the effect "that the weapons program has been impaired."

"In my opinion," he said, "it has not."

AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray had said in previous testimony that the Dixon-Yates issue had diverted the commission's attention from its primary job-producing fissionable materials and atomic weapons.

With Strauss and other AEC officials on the witness stand, the committee was combing over the contract paragraph by paragraph.

Signed Thursday, the contract is between AEC and a utility company formed by E. H. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., and E. A. Yates, board chairman of the Southern Co.

It calls for Dixon-Yates to supply 600,000 kilowatts of energy, with the government paying 20 million dollars a year for 25 years for the power. Under the contract, Dixon-Yates is to build a 107-million-dollar generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to replace power the Tennessee Valley Authority now supplies to atomic installations.

UNFAIR EXCHANGE

GREENVILLE, S. C. (P)—Willie May Abbott reported the theft of a new tire from her automobile but told police the thief left an old tire, worn but roadworthy, in its place.

WATCH YOURSELF—Artist Anders Beckman shows a giant box of matches which is part of an exposition in Stockholm, Sweden, called "Children's Dangerous World." The display is a graphic campaign to get children to guard themselves against common accidents.

Bricker Comes To Defense

ly gray, spoke after Ohio's veteran Bricker declared a vote to censure McCarthy would "smack of legislative tyranny" and "would reflect a vindictive passion unworthy of the world's greatest deliberative body."

Bricker contended there is no precedent for punishing a senator for the acts alleged against McCarthy—obstructing and abusing a Senate committee, and likewise giving abusive treatment to an Army general who appeared before McCarthy's own investigations subcommittee.

Moreover, Bricker said, censuring McCarthy would not bar other senators from doing the very things for which McCarthy was rebuked. And so, he declared, the present unprecedented censure session of the Senate is based on an "unparalleled absurdity."

Stennis, a former Mississippi judge, accused McCarthy of exhibiting right up to the present a "moral contempt" of the Senate.

Failure to rebuke McCarthy, Stennis said, will amount to endorsing his conduct and thus telling the youth of the nation that McCarthy's behavior "is the high road of which the Senate approves, and upon which it likes to travel."

Crowds in the galleries began to dwindle as the third day of debate neared its end. Attendance of senators dropped, too.

Sen. Weiker (R-Iaho) drew applause from a number of spectators when he protested the small number of senators—it was less than 20—who lingered to hear the Bricker and Goldwater speeches.

Weiker said he was "astounded" and "ashamed to see so many empty seats."

Sen. Bush (R-Conn) presiding at the time, rapped his gavel sharply and cautioned against any further gallery demonstrations.

During the debate Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, appeared to be laying the basis for a possible Senate verdict at variance with the censure proposal made by the special committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah).

Knowland recalled that he had said last summer he would gladly go on trial for his life before the Watkins Committee. He said he did not retract "one iota" from that judgment today.

"I believe the Senate of the United States has its responsibilities as well." He said "each senator must ... finally reach a decision on his own responsibility."

To drive home his point, Knowland said that he had the greatest respect for the Senate Finance Committee. Nevertheless, he said, he has often disagreed with bills recommended by the committee.

That disagreement, he said, is no "reflection on the committee" or "lack of appreciation" for it.

Both Weiker and McCarthy fired a series of questions at Stennis but neither replied directly to his charge that McCarthy's attacks on the Watkins committee—and on a Senate subcommittee which investigated him in 1952—were "slush and slime" on the Senate's good name.

McCarthy asked Stennis if he thought a man loses any of his rights of free speech when he is elected to the Senate.

"Of course not," Stennis replied, adding that a senator gains certain privileges—such as immunity in anything he says on the Senate floor. But with those privileges, Stennis said, goes a "serious obligation" not to abuse them.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), sponsor of the original resolution to censure McCarthy, hailed Stennis' speech as one of the greatest ever delivered on the Senate floor.

Stennis' speech was another straw in a wind that seemed to be blowing cold on moves by McCarthy's supporters to get the censure resolution tumbled down if not dropped entirely.

STATE AG MEET OPENS MONDAY

CHICAGO (P)—The Illinois Agricultural Assn. will open a four-day annual meeting at the Sherman Hotel Monday, with more than 5,000 farmers, farm women and farm youths expected to attend. Secretary of Agriculture Benson will address the group Wednesday night.

HELD UP 10 TIMES IN 2 YEARS

CHICAGO (P)—James Meyers, an insurance salesman, is experienced at handing over his money while looking down a gun barrel.

When two men robbed him of $40 on a South Side street Friday, he told police, it was the 10th time he had been held up in the last two years.

LEFT THE HOUSE

MEADOWS OF DAN, Va. (P)—Arnold Hawks told police about all he had left for his house. Thieves took a refrigerator, a bed room suite, a washing machine, a sewing machine, an electric iron and most of the bedclothing.

CODY'S CONTRACT

In 1867, William F. Cody made a contract with the Kansas Pacific Railway to supply its laborers with buffalo meat and shot 4,280 buffaloes in the ensuing 18 months, earning the nickname of "Buffalo Bill."

of nickel nickels, having made the coins of steel for some years.

FEARS SPEECH MORE THAN KILLERS

CHICAGO (P)—James J. Metcalfe is one of a group of fearless former FBI agents who two decades ago tracked down John Dillinger and other desperate killers of that era.

Today Metcalfe, 48, was singled out to be toastmaster at a banquet of former FBI agents.

Said Metcalfe, "I'm scared."

Madness In The Spring

THE STORY: Greg Sever, a young man who wants to do things on his own, leaves the security of working for his father to be the chauffeur of Wade Daggett, a well-to-do invalid. Traveling in Daggett's car and trailer, they pick up Rupert, a handsome, aloof, and discover he is illegally in the country. They cannot decide what must be done about Rupert, but his half-starved condition and the hardships he has endured win Daggett's sympathy. Next Greg meets Hannah Blake, who has been fitted and rebuffed. Daggett suggests she be brought to the trailer.

XVII
GREG performed the introductions and Hannah walked straight to Daggett, smiling into his eyes. After a swift and measuring glance, she did not offer to shake hands.

"Thank you," she said, "for letting me come," and Greg expelled a sigh of relief.

Daggett waved his good hand toward a seat. "We don't often have a pleasure like this," he said and for a fleeting moment the girl revealed her surprise at the deep, rich voice in such poignant contrast to the dead face. "As a matter of fact, you are the first young lady who has ever visited us. Rupert was so excited he even dusted and, to the best of my knowledge, that is a record."

"If I had seen you first, I would have got some flowers," Rupert told her mendaciously, his long, narrow eyes playing over her face with subtle flattery that was his automatic response to a woman.

"It is perfect as it is. I've never been in a trailer before. Do you live here too?"

Rupert gave Greg a reproachful look but there was a hint of laughter around his mouth. "So he did not want to live about such Oh, well, I can do it myself. I'll do it much better anyhow."

What a technique, Greg thought, annoyed. He really mows them down; the poor girl will never know what hit her.

50th Year Dinner Of Historical Society To Be Held Thursday

The golden anniversary of the founding of the Morgan County Historical Society in 1904 will be celebrated on Thursday, November 18, with a dinner at the Dunlap Hotel at 6 p. m.

An interesting program is being arranged including music by Illinois and MacMurray college students. A novelty will be popular songs which were sung in the early 1900's.

Dr. Arthur Bestor, president of the State Historical Society, will speak on "The Value of History in a Time of Crisis." Dr. Bestor is professor of history at the University of Illinois. He received his A.B. and Ph.D. degrees from Yale, and is the author of several books, the most recent one, "The Retreat from Learning in Our Public Schools," which created a sensation among educators and has had a wide reading.

Dr. L. K. Hallock will tell of the organization of the local Historical Society and Miss Fieda Abbott will give a brief history of the society.

Dr. Harry Pratt, Illinois State Historian, will also speak briefly.

The public is invited to the dinner and reservations can be made by calling Miss Fieda Abbott, 216 West College avenue or at the Dunlap hotel.

Earl T. Lukeman Services Held Friday Afternoon

Funeral services for Earl T. Lukeman were held Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Reynolds Chapel with Rev. Clair MacComison officiating, assisted by Rev. Lesley Heuston.

Mrs. George Vasey played several selections on the pipe organ, and Alvin Miedendorf sang two solos, "Beyond the Sunset" and "In the Garden."

The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Clifton Davis, Mrs. Leroy Sweet, Mrs. John Spradlin, Mrs. Odell Wilburn, Mrs. Iven Cox and Mrs. Bernard Camm.

Honorary pallbearers were: Otto Leake, Lesley Lenke, Samuel Camm, Clarence Smith, Iven Cox and Vergil Kniffley.

The active pallbearers were: Clifton Davis, Pat Kenney, Bernard Camm, Leroy Sweet, Odell Wilburn and John Spradlin.

Interment was made in the Union cemetery in Pisgah.

Cub Scouts From City To Perform At Springfield

Three of the Jacksonville Cub packs have been asked to present parts of the Cubbing program at the Cub Leaders "Cub How" which is being presented from 2:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon at the Douglas Avenue Methodist Church in Springfield.

The local packs taking part are: Pack 113 of the South Jacksonville P.T.A., presenting Cub Ceremonies; Pack 104, Lincoln School P.T.A., presenting Cub Knots and Pack 103 of Centenary Methodist Church presenting the Cub game of Bounce Ball.

There will be 15 Packs from the Abraham Lincoln Council presenting 15 different parts of the Cubbing program. The presentations will be handled in the same manner in which a county fair operates. Each Pack will have a booth and will present their subject as a continuous program.

Those who attend the "Cub How" will rotate from booth to booth taking part in the presentation of that booth.

The program is informal training for those in the Cubbing program and general information for all others. The public is invited.

MRS. JOE DENHAM IS HOSTESS TO SINCLAIR UNIT

The Sinclair unit of Morgan Scott Home Bureau was entertained recently by Mrs. Joe G. Denham with the chairman, Mrs. Grover C. Lewis, calling the meeting to order with a Thanksgiving poem.

Mrs. Marvin Martin, secretary-treasurer, gave her report. Mrs. Roy Robinson read the vice chairman's report. Roll call was answered by a favorite way to prepare cranberries. The major lesson, "Preparing Cooked and Baked Foods for the Freezer," was given by Mrs. Nate Nelson and Mrs. Hargis Lamular. The selected subject, "Homemakers Job in Protecting the Health of the Family," was given by Mrs. A. Lee Ward.

Mrs. Earl Barter was elected to the office of assistant secretary. It was voted to have a fifty cent gift exchange at the December meeting on the 8th at the home of Mrs. Lamular. Children present were Marilyn Schumaker and Susie Denham.

The chairman has charged these meetings with the responsibility of meeting to determine the building needs in their particular area before November 20. He asked them to study the present facilities at first hand and be prepared to make a report at the next general meeting of the committee. This meeting will be held about December 1.

The Citizens School Advisory committee was appointed by the Board of Education to make a thorough and impartial study of school building needs in the community.

Gaylord Spotts Ready For Chief Illiniwek Dance

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Preparing for Nov. 13 Homecoming festivities at the University of Illinois as a member of the world-famous Illinois Football Band is Gaylord D. Spotts, 253 E. State St., Jacksonville, who is Chief Illiniwek.

As a football band member he has put in a good many afternoons this fall rehearsing for the Saturday shows in Memorial Stadium here and at the Illinois-Minnesota game in St. Paul. In a season the band puts on nearly 50 different formations.

Bands have become as much a part of college football as cheerleaders, referees or the players themselves, and the Illinois band is one of the finest. Without it the game would lose much of its glamor. Though spectacle gets the audience attention, music is also important to this organization. It is of the highest quality and actually a part of the year-around band performances.

Every move in the intricate formations is keyed to the music, and the Illinois band never has used whistles or pistol shot signals. "Music is the first consideration," says Everett D. Kinsinger, football band director.

Sentence Ten For Defrauding Blood Bank

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten men charged with defrauding a hospital blood bank of $2,726 today were dealt prison sentences ranging from 30 days to a maximum of two years.

All the defendants pleaded guilty to the charges which involved the blood bank at Illinois Masonic Hospital, Judge Harry G. Heinsworth of Criminal Court denied pleas for probation.

Police testified that for three months prior to Aug. 20 when they were arrested the men had been forging vouchers of a type given to blood donors in the hospital's blood bank. They testified donors to payment at $10 a point.

The 10 defendants then cashed the forged vouchers at the hospital cashier's office. It was testified. The scheme became known when it was discovered that the amounts paid for blood did not match the blood supply.

Eight of these sentenced are transients with no permanent address. The others sentenced are Richard Hansen, 31, Chicago, one to 18 months and Donald Kral, 27, Kankakee, Ill., six months.

U.A.W. TO ASK PAY HIKE

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers will demand an across-the-board 10-cent hourly pay increase in addition to a guaranteed annual wage when contracts with the auto industry expire in mid-1955.

The UAW also will ask that pensions be increased from a maximum of $144.50 to $192 a month.

This was disclosed today by Walter P. Reuther, president of both the CIO and UAW, before the UAW's 900-member collective bargaining conference.

RED WARSHIP SUNK

MR. AND MRS. EARL HICKS

WHITE HALL—A Greene county couple, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hicks, observed their golden wedding anniversary October 31 with open house held at the home of a son, William Hicks.

Mr. Hicks is 73 and his wife, 71 years of age. Both were born in the Oak Grove neighborhood and attended the same schools where they were childhood sweethearts. They have spent their entire married life in the Oak Grove community, with the exception of one year. Both are exceptionally active for their age.

They have three children, William and Mrs. Earlmond Phillips of White Hall and Mrs. Mildred Pisorek of St. Louis. There are nine grandchildren and one great grandson, Steven Lyle Roberts of St. Louis.

Invite 850 4-H Club Members To Show

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce announced Friday that invitations had been sent to all 4-H members in Morgan county inviting them to the Annual 4-H Achievement Day celebration at the Theatre Saturday morning.

John Prickett, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce said "this has been an annual event for 10 years. Its popularity has grown continually and offers us an opportunity to honor those boys and girls who have done an outstanding job in 4-H work throughout the county."

Approximately 850 boys and girls have been invited by the Chamber of Commerce to a free show Saturday morning. Before the show, awards, prizes and certificates will be awarded. The doors will open at 8:30 and the program will begin promptly at 9 a. m.

Tractor Turns Over; Waverly Man Badly Hurt

Suffering from internal injuries, Allan Wood, 50 year old farmer of the Waverly community, remained in critical condition Friday at Springfield Memorial hospital after an accident with a tractor at his farm northeast of Waverly.

Wood was pinned beneath the tractor Thursday when it overturned while he was discing. His plight was discovered by Mrs. Wood, who called help from Waverly. A number of men rushed to the field to render assistance.

The rescuers were forced to uncouple the disc from the tractor before the suffering man could be released. Dr. Theodore Bernardy of Waverly administered first aid.

Wood was taken to the hospital in the Wiesse ambulance. He was reported to be suffering badly from shock. X-ray examination was scheduled for Friday.

Members of the family reported that Mr. Wood has at least one broken rib, but the full extent of other injuries were not known. He remained conscious after the accident.

BERE LADIES AID MAKES DRAPES FOR CHURCH BASEMENT

The Berea Ladies Aid met recently at the church for an all day sewing session. The women made new drapes for all windows in the church basement. The sewing project was directed by Mrs. Harold Stewart, Mrs. Lloyd Finn and Mrs. Albert Nell.

At the same meeting members took articles to be boxed and sent to Miss Ruth Smith, missionary in the Philippines. Food donations were also collected for the market sponsored by the Young Adult class.

J. T. Cummings, Veteran Trapper, Claimed By Death

JERSEYVILLE—Funeral services for John Thomas Cummings will be conducted Saturday, Nov. 13, at 2 p. m. from Jacoby Brothers Funeral Home. Interment will be in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Cummings was the son of the late William and Sarah Wilson Cummings and was born May 4, 1877, in Greene county, Illinois. He died suddenly at his home, 917 Hickory Street, Jerseyville, Nov. 11 at 3:50 a. m. at the age of 77 years, 6 months and 7 days.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Zada Cummings; three sons, Elmer and Truman Cummings of Jerseyville and Jasper Cummings of Harrison, Indiana; two daughters, Mrs. Alice Lyles and Mrs. Effie Pummil of Jerseyville; 14 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. One son, Raymond, and two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Bates and Miss Lucille Cummings preceded him in death.

Friends may call at Jacoby Brothers Funeral Home until time for the funeral.

Cummings was well known in this part of Illinois for his ability as a trapper. He began trapping furbearing animals when a boy of nine and continued each year regardless of his other work and operated a trap line each open season. Three years ago, however, he was compelled to abandon the trapping hobby due to ill health.

He had planned to run a trap line again this fall when the season opens November 15th and recently purchased a number of new traps to carry on the project. Death came unexpectedly early Thursday morning.

Car Skids On Gravel; Couple Suffers Bruises

VIRGINIA, Ill. — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jordan, living about five miles north of Virginia, met with an accident while driving out for their driveway at their home. Their car, a 1934 Ford, skidded on loose dirt and gravel and overturned twice, the occupants escaping with only bruises and scratches, but damage to the body of the car was estimated at $600.

It was towed to the Kenneth Reid Service Station, at the highway intersection on the north outskirts of this city.

Mr. Jordan is employed at the Electric Power Company in Havana, and was driving Mrs. Jordan to the highway to meet friends with whom he rides to Springfield each morning, where she is employed by the Franklin Life Insurance Co.

Catholics Doomed To Stay Under Red Rule In Indochina

PARIS (AP)—Thousands of Catholics in Northern Indochina appeared doomed to stay under Red control Friday because of Communist insistence that French ships observe a three-mile limit in Vietnamese territorial waters.

The French accused the Vietnamese regime in Northern Indochina of violating the Geneva armistice agreement by refusing to allow anti-Communist Vietnamese to move to Southern Viet Nam. But the French admitted little could be done for the 20,000 to 40,000 Roman Catholics in the North trying to get away from Communist domination.

The French have moved several thousand Catholics from the area around Phat Diem and Bui Chu. A French spokesman here confirmed that French ships and planes had been instructed to observe Vietnamese territorial rights.

"We had no choice," the spokesman said. "It is in the Geneva agreement. But the agreement also says that the new population of Viet Nam is free to choose to live either north or south of the 17th parallel division line."

DEFENDS STAND OF CATHOLIC PRESS

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A Catholic prelate said today that Catholic newspapers "cannot remain silent" on public issues which trespass upon the competence of the church.

Speaking at a regional meeting of the Catholic Press Assn., the Most Rev. Albert R. Zuroweste, bishop of the Belleville, Ill., diocese, said:

"While the Catholic press must be impartial and independent regarding politics and political parties, it cannot remain silent if these trespass upon the competence of the church."

"Questions that pertain to social, moral, economic or even the political realm—if they concern in any way man's eternal destiny or the mission of the church—come within the scope of the Catholic press and it must speak out authoritatively and fearlessly."

About 85 delegates from 10 Midwestern states attended the one-day meeting.

ARREST 8 FOR BEATING, ROBBERY ELDERLY MEN

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight grade school boys were seized Friday for beating six elderly men in robberies which netted a total of 50 cents.

Cliff Fitzer, juvenile officer, said the youths, all Negroes between 13 and 15 years of age, are members of a club called the "sharks" and wear black and white jackets as club identification.

Fitzer said the boys admitted making the attacks with iron pipes all in the last two weeks on the South Side, and reported that their only loot was 50 cents which fell from the pocket of one victim.

The officer said a ninth boy is sought. Police said all would be turned over to juvenile authorities.

To Lecture Nov. 19

WALTER S. SYMONDS

The restoration of healing to the practice of religion will be the topic of a free public lecture in this city by Walter S. Symonds, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Mr. Symonds will speak in the Congregational Church, 510 West College Avenue, next Friday evening, November 19, at 8 o'clock on the subject, "Christian Science: The Joyous Gospel of Healing and Love." The public is cordially invited.

Mr. Symonds was formerly general manager and owner of a group of insurance companies in San Antonio. He left a varied and successful business career to give his full time to the practice of Christian Science healing. From 1945 to 1950 he also served as Christian Science Committee on Publication for Texas.

E. J. Christopher At "Q's" Largest Freight House

The Chicago Burlington & Quincy railroad has opened at Cicero, Ill., its largest and most modern freight house, and Edward J. Christopher, former of this city has been appointed freight agent in charge.

The new freight house is 1400 feet in length, 400 feet wide, has 195 truck spots for loading and unloading and a capacity of 240 cars. The building is brick, steel and concrete construction with offices on the second floor.

The platforms are all covered with four over-head doors at each end so that freight is handled under cover and protected from the weather.

Mr. Christopher is well known in Jacksonville, having served as operator at the local Burlington station for several years. He later held positions at Chapin and Beardstown before going to Peoria as freight agent. From Peoria he was sent to Kansas City as general freight agent and was transferred to his present position at Cicero three months ago.

Mrs. Christopher, the former Alice Ottwell, was for many years employed as secretary in the office of the chief clerk at the Jacksonville State Hospital.

Suffers Heart Attack At Park While Fishing

Herbert Mitchell, 77, of Loami, Ill., suffered a heart attack at 10 o'clock Friday morning while fishing in Lake Mauvasterre off Vandalia Road near Nichols Park.

Mitchell had come to Jacksonville Friday morning in company of Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Stubbfield, also of Loami, to spend the day fishing.

Mrs. Stubbfield, who was fishing near Mr. Mitchell, saw him collapse and summoned her husband. Mrs. Stubbfield went to the Nichols Park superintendent's office and the Jacksonville police were notified.

Chief of Police Ike Flynn and Patrolman Cloyd Wilson went to Lake Mauvasterre and immediately called the Cooney ambulance. Mr. Mitchell was taken to Our Saviour's Hospital where his condition was reported as critical.
